

TIP OF THE WEEK

March 20, 2007

Every morning in Africa, a gazelle wakes up and ruffles its tawny coat. It knows it must run faster than the slowest of its brothers or it will be killed.

That same morning a lion rises and yawns, the sun glinting on the fangs in its gaping jaws. It knows it must outrun the slowest gazelle or it will starve to death.

So it doesn't matter whether you are a lion or a gazelle. When the sun comes up, you'd better start running.
